A variety of non-profit organizations hosted booths with information about health, wellness, fitness and growth. There were also a few short presentations including a discussion of healthy eating for diabetics, brain fitness and addiction recovery.

Location:

Providence Baptist Church 112 W. 6th St., Mansfield, OH

Audience:

Free to anyone in the community

# of Community Members Impacted:

Approximately 150 people/community members participated.

Outcomes of Event:

Multiple community members engaged with the sexual health clinic staff and flyers provided. The Pastor of the church made sure to take multiple flyers to rotate on their community bulletin board. One Richland County resident completed HIV, Syphilis and Hep C testing with us. Multiple visitors took our goodie bags filled with lube and condoms, if not for themselves for friends or family members. We were able to touch base with a representative named Sarah from Planned Parenthood to answer some of her questions and solidify our ongoing relationship of them completing testing and referring patients to us for treatment if positive. We also spoke to Mr. Anthony Brown who gave his testimony of how he went from a homeless man to a now author, speaker and professor. His story is very inspiring and his dedication to helping homeless in Mansfield is very motivational: <https://anthonyhowardbrown.com/>

In what ways can outreach be improved?

This was the 26th annual minority fair, so they are continuously growing and improving each year. The NAACP and Providence Baptist Church consistently work together to make this a well-attended and interactive event for all to enjoy. We do need more Galion City Health Department swag to give away though. People love free stuff!
