

Outreach Report
God's Little Acre Farmer's Market
9/13/2025 9am-12pm

Division:
Nursing

Participating Staff:
Brandi Riddlebaugh, RN
Andrea Barnes, Health Commissioner

Anticipated Outcome: To provide health education in form of what is a healthy vs. unhealthy blood pressure, current flu and Covid vaccines, mosquito protection.

Description of event: God's Little Acre Farmer's Market takes place every Saturday from 9am-12pm from June through September. Local vendors are invited to participate. The Galion City Health Department attends one Saturday each month during the season to offer education, health services and resources to the community for free.

Location: 248 Harding Way West, Galion OH 44833

Audience: Open to the public of Community Members Impacted: 50 people

Outcomes of event: Those needing mosquito dunks were able to get them for free. Questions were answered regarding how people can get the flu and Covid vaccines through the Galion City Health Department.

In what ways can outreach be improved? I think this is a nice event. I should have shared on social media sooner that the health department would be participating and I could have made more of an effort to offer blood pressure checks.
